TRUFFOL TO RELEASE ALUMINUM-LEATHER FUSION PHONE CASE FOR THE IPHONE 5

Hong Kong – Truffol, specializing in luxury tech accessories, has released the “Signature” case for the iPhone 5. Targeting the extravagant end of the spectrum, the Signature combines sleek design, premium quality, and protection.

Design / Versatility

Available in both silver and navy, the Signature employs a slide-in mechanism that secures the main frame with either a stainless steel cover to form a bumper-styled case, or an Italian leather cover to form a full enclosure. The Stainless Steel bumper, the Minimalist, adds a mere 1.3mm in thickness and a rubber coating for a firm grip. The Italian leather cover, the Classic, provides a fine touch and texture found in high-end leather goods.

Protection

The Signature comes with a machine-milled aluminum exterior that aims to protect the phone against nicks and bumps, complimented with a gorgeous diamond cut. An inner polycarbonate layer sits between the aluminum and the iPhone to prevent scratches to the phone and provide shock absorption upon impact. The Signature features alternate button designs through supplementary buttons, while offering easy access to the iPhone's own buttons.

Craftsmanship

The Signature employs meticulous nylon brushing, yielding a smooth texture without any unpleasant graininess or fingerprints.

Our fine Italian cowhide, sourced from Santa Croce sull'Arno in Italy, is trimmed to an incredible thickness of 0.4mm. Every case represents unbelievable man-hours by expert craftsmen to ensure a wrinkle-free finish.
